Piazza di Siena is a winning and replicable model, a major international event that is innovative, sustainable and a driving force for tourism, the economy and the growth of sports. It is a testament to the extent to which collaboration and teamwork can lead to results for the common good. Together with FISE and in collaboration with the city's institutions, we have embarked on a journey that has brought benefits and opportunities in terms of recovering degraded areas - as in the case of the Galoppatoio restored to its former glory - restoring sculptures, caring for green spaces, raising awareness of biodiversity, art exhibitions, and much more. That's why Piazza di Siena is a unique event in an emblematic place of beauty and opportunities for socializing, sport, culture and lifestyle.

THE RIDERS AND THEIR...

Christian Kukuk, winner of the 2024 and 2025 Rolex Grand Prix CSI5* with Checker 47

There's definitely something special between Checker 47 and this arena," Christian Kukuk. "He already won a Grand Prix here this winter, and now this is his third Grand Prix victory (2 Rolex Grand Prix). Every time I enter the ring with him, it's like he finds an extra gear whatever it is, he just feels at home here. I think he loves the weather, the paddocks, and the life we've built for him.

The team take care of him every single day, and the bond between them is incredibly strong that plays such a big role. All of it together makes me, without a doubt, the happiest man on the planet tonight.

Yuri Mansur winner of the Rolex Gran Premio Roma in 2025 with Miss Blue

Today's course was demanding, with every obstacle requiring precision, but Miss Blue gave her all. She has an enormous heart and incredible presence, and when it mattered most, she delivered like a true champion. We chose to start cautiously and then accelerate at the key points, and everything came together perfectly. Winning here, in the majestic setting of Piazza di Siena, surrounded by such a unique atmosphere, fills me with pride. I am immensely proud of her and deeply grateful to experience a moment like this.

Daniel Deusser winner of the Rolex Grand Prix Ville de La Baule 2025 with Otello

This victory holds a special meaning for the entire team. Otello was exceptional. In recent months, he had already achieved impressive wins at 1.50 m, but this was his very first Grand Prix 5*. We are all extremely proud. Going last gave me an advantage: I knew exactly what I needed to do. I was still unsure about the strides between fences 1 and 2 and at the entrance to the double, but after seeing McLain's round, everything became clear: I had to take out a stride to the double. I'm thrilled that Otello thought the same he understood perfectly and followed me flawlessly. It's an incredible feeling.

LEGENDARY 2025 PERFORMANCES

Karl Cook - Winner of the Rolex Grand Prix presented by Agria 2025 with Caracole de la Roque

What a joy it is as a rider to navigate this course! Entering this arena, in front of such a passionate crowd, is truly rewarding. You feel the unique atmosphere the moment you step into the ring it's an energy that lifts you and pushes you to give your very best. Caracole was so fast from the first round that all I had to do was follow his rhythm and make the most of his strengths. I stayed calm, observed my competitors in the jump-off, and focused on precise turns knew the six strides after the double would be tricky given his stride.

Aaron Vale, winner of the Rolex Grand Prix Ville de Dinard 2025 with Carissimo 25

I believe this first Grand Prix 5* victory truly deserves to be celebrated! At the start of the jump-off, I watched Nina's round she's incredibly fast and when she lost a stirrup, I realized the door had opened. Harrie improved his time, but only slightly... so I went for it, full speed, without overthinking. And it worked. It was incredible. Winning here, in this beautiful arena, in front of such a crowd... the atmosphere is electric; you feel the adrenaline even before entering the ring. It's the perfect place for achieving such a feat. I'll definitely be back next year.

Laura Kraut - Winner of the Rolex Grand Prix of Dublin 2025 with Bisquetta

The Dublin Horse Show is one of those events you put on your bucket list my husband, Nick Skelton, won it five times so I'm absolutely thrilled. Alan Wade built a course that was both delicate and fair, where you had to be perfect to jump clear. I was lucky to go towards the end, which gave me the chance to watch the others and decide exactly on my strategy. Bisquetta was ready and brilliant. She's very brave, very diligent, and this year she has really stepped up. She does have her little quirks she's terrified of other horses but none of that affects her in the ring.

Nina Malleveay, winner of the Rolex Grand Prix 2025 with Dynastie de Beaufour

I don't really realize it yet. It feels unbelievable. I know I have the best supporters, and I honestly couldn't imagine a better show to win my first Rolex Grand Prix. I also want to thank Stephan, thank you Rein family and of course my trainer Helena she gave me the right advice at the right moment, and it made all the difference.
